Memo to: Prof. Charles Milne
From: John Loscalzo, WNYU-FM Program Director
Re: Cancellation of "Coping Through the Day"
Date: August 18,1983.

This is to let you know that WNYU is cancelling "Coping Through the Day," a public health program. It is hosted by Doctors Carl and Rae Weiss and is aired Tuesday nights from 10p.m. to 11p.m. This cancellation will take effect September 12, 1983.

Our reasons for this action are varied. Mainly, we would like to see NYU students take over this time slot so that they can produce their own public health show. Secondly, "Coping Through the Day" only presents one type of psychotherapy, without bringing any other views to light. These reasons, combined with the fact that we, the new station management, feel that it is our obligation to continually upgrade the quality of WNYU as an educational facility for TSOA students, as well as other students in the university, have brought us to this decision.

Our news department is currently working on a replacement show for "Coping" and they have already been in contact with NYU Medical Center for assistance. If you would like more information, I can arrange for some to be sent to you.

I am also enclosing the proposed memo to be sent to the Weisses upon your approval. I would like to get your feedback on this matter. You may reach me at ext. 3036 any weekday after 11 a.m.

Thank you for your time and I hope to be speaking to you soon.

Re: The future of "Coping Through the Day"
Date: August 18, 1983.

It has been WNYU's pleasure to have "Coping Through the Day" as part of its FM schedule for the last three years. The show has endured changes in staff and "philosophy" at WNYU and that in itself is admirable. This fall, however, the management of WNYU is planning to develop much more extensively the participation of NYU undergraduates in public affairs programming. As a result of this decision, we are cancelling "Coping Through the Day" effective September 12, 1983. The time slot will be given to the News Department to produce and write their own public health program.

This plan we strongly feel is in keeping with our obligation to the Tisch School of the Arts to continually provide an effective educational facilty for students from TSOA as well as other parts of the University.

We appreciate your past contributions to the station and wish you luck on all future endeavors.
